Emotional Impairment
(EI teaching endorsement - for individuals who have or are eligible for Michigan Teacher Certification)

INFORMATION AND APPLICATION PACKET

M.Ed. in SPECIAL EDUCATION with EI/EBD CONCENTRATION

(for teachers and non-teachers alike)

The M.Ed. in Special Education focuses on the broader concepts of exceptionality - learning, instruction and development - with regard to special populations. The concentration in emotional impairment focuses on in-depth preparation for working with individuals with emotional / behavioral disorders across a variety of settings.

This graduate degree is intended to address the needs of two distinct groups:

- those who have or are eligible to receive Michigan teacher certification, and
- other professionals not in the teaching profession, who routinely work with individuals and groups where emotional / behavioral issues may occur, i.e., community mental health workers, HR administrators, Health and Human Services staff and administrators, police officers, counselors, school psychologists, social workers, rehabilitation counselors, behavior specialists, speech pathologists, occupational therapists, health caregivers and others.

In addition to the required coursework - which is the same for both groups - each group is required to complete a specific 4-credit exit option:

- Michigan teachers seeking to add the EI endorsement to their teaching certificate
 - Must complete SE 594 (Practicum, Emotional Impairment K-12)
- Non-teachers who wish to increase their expertise in working with individuals with emotional and/or behavioral disorders, not seeking a teaching credential
 - Must complete 4 credits of electives, approved by adviser

Details

- ✓ Teachers seeking the EI endorsement must complete an EI Practicum
- ✓ All courses except the EI Practicum are offered online
- ✓ Non-teachers may complete the entire program online (no Practicum is required)
- ✓ All courses must be completed within 6 years (most finish in 2 – 3 years)
- ✓ This is a cohort program that begins fall term and continues year-round
- ✓ This program is approved for financial aid (financialaid@oakland.edu)
- ✓ Consists of 40 credits (See attached Plans of Study for exit options)

Admissions Criteria

- ✓ Undergraduate or graduate degree with minimum GPA of 3.0
- ✓ Potential for success in the program
- ✓ Interview (by phone or in person) may be required
- ✓ Those seeking the EI teaching endorsement must also hold or be eligible for a valid Michigan elementary or secondary teaching certificate

Graduate Certificate in Emotional Impairment (EI/EBD)

The graduate Certificate in Emotional Impairment focuses on in-depth preparation for working with students with emotional / behavioral disorders in the classroom. Participants in the certificate-only program are required to have or be eligible for Michigan teacher certification. Teachers may elect to complete coursework for the EI Certificate alone, or with additional coursework, the M.Ed. in Special Education with EI concentration. Both options fulfill academic requirements for the EI endorsement offered through the Michigan Department of Education.

Details

- ✓ Candidates must have Michigan teacher certification
- ✓ An EI Practicum is required, and must be completed in an approved EI classroom
- ✓ All courses (except the EI Practicum) are offered online
- ✓ Courses taken as part of the EI certificate may apply to the M.Ed. in Special Education only if transferring to the degree prior to completion of the certificate
- ✓ All courses applied to the desired credential must be completed within 6 years
- ✓ This is a cohort program that begins fall term and continues year-round

Program Options / Credits

- ✓ “Advanced” EI Certificate - for teachers who have at least one prior special education endorsement (16 credits)
- ✓ “Basic” EI Certificate - for teachers who do not have a prior special education endorsement (up to 32 credits)

Admissions Criteria

- ✓ Undergraduate or graduate degree with minimum GPA of 3.0
- ✓ EI certificate (EI teaching endorsement) applicants must hold or be eligible for a valid Michigan elementary or secondary teaching certificate
- ✓ Potential for success in the program
