MASTER OF ARTS IN CLINICAL MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING DEGREE
A Recommendation

1. Divisions and Departments: Academic Affairs, Department of Counseling; School of Education and Human Services.

2. Introduction: The Department of Counseling proposes a modification which changes the status of the Community Counseling program from a track within the Master of Arts (MA) in Counseling to a separate (MA) in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree. The proposed start date of the transition to the new program is Winter 2015. The change is required to meet financial aid requirements and necessitating modifications due to accreditation. The current financial aid policy according to Oakland University (University) requires the following: If there are two tracks with different credit requirements, the track with the minimum credits is fully financially aid eligible. Therefore, to make the higher credit track financially aid eligible the status must change from a track to a separate degree. Our current two tracks (School Counseling and Community Counseling) are 48 credit hours. Due to accreditation requirements, our Community Counseling will move to 60 credit hours which will be higher than the school track. Therefore, the Oakland University School of Education and Human Services (SEHS) Department of Counseling (Department) is seeking approval of this change.

The mission of the MA in Clinical Mental Health Counseling program at the University is to assure that graduates demonstrate the skills, abilities and expertise required of professional counselors in a diverse society. The Department is committed to continued study of the most current issues related to the field of counseling through professional literature and by association with counseling and related professional organizations, while remaining active in research endeavors that maintain an environment of inquiry. The program faculty aim to provide an educational environment that nurtures rigor and a desire to learn, and fosters collaborative relationships between faculty and students, and are committed to creating a supportive, challenging learning environment in which students and faculty join in discovery learning and contribute to the understanding of the counseling process. The program faculty also engage in activities that contribute to the well-being of the community through on-campus and off-campus service delivery projects. Both students and the community benefit from the continued commitment to providing a model counseling program. The Department continues to develop programs to provide students with the resources, knowledge and experiences to demonstrate excellence in counseling practices. Currently the Department has a strong record of success with many of the graduates working in community mental health and school counseling positions both locally and nationally.

The Community Counseling track within the current MA program is one of the largest graduate-level programs on campus. It continues to be a first choice for students interested in counseling in the region, and is currently accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). In the last accreditation in 2010, the program met all the 250 plus standards and received full accreditation. However, CACREP standards have changed such that in order to maintain CACREP accreditation, the MA in Counseling program must include a 60 credit hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling program; thus the need to add 12 credits to the current Community Counseling track. As a result, financial aid requirements necessitates that a new degree program be proposed rather than a program modification.

The proposed MA in Clinical Mental Health Degree program consists of 24 credits in foundation courses, 28 credits in specialty and clinical courses, and 8 credits capstone courses. Students currently complete the degree in two and a half years with a normal 8 credit load. It is expected that students will complete the program in 3 years since many students also work part or full-time. These graduate programs are a continuation of a robust graduate education at the University and SEHS in the area of clinical mental health counseling and specifically, the direct care of clinical populations within the general population.

3. Previous Board Action: The Master of Arts in Counseling was first approved by the Board of Trustees on May 13, 1970; and amended on August 12, 1987.

4. Budget Implications: The proposed changes to the Community Counseling track and the implementation of the transition to a new degree program are expected to start in Winter 2015. Because the proposed changes update an existing, established program, the proposal does not include a budget. The MA in Counseling program currently has a budget and the revised program will require only minimal funding for part-time faculty to implement. The university will receive tuition revenue for the additional course credits.

5. Educational Implications: The proposed MA in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree will continue to promote teaching, research, scholarship and clinical proficiency in line with the mission of the University. The program provides graduate students the educational requirements to obtain professional licenses including the Michigan Licensed Professional Counselor. The training fulfills the intellectual interests of a diverse student body and practical skills to engage in counseling practice. The current program attracts students striving for high standards, rigor and a quality experience.

The capstone experiences provide intensive clinical experiences that provide an important community service to the University and the surrounding community through mental health services and initiatives. The current program and proposed program align with the current University mission and goals including:

- Intensive quality instruction
- Academic excellence and rigor
- A high level of scholarship and research among our faculty
- Student-faculty applied research initiatives
- Integrating Research, Teaching, Clinical and Public Service within the SEHS Counseling Center and Adult Career Counseling Center
- Integrating activities of the Department of Counseling with student development initiatives such as training academic advisors, the GRASP (Suicide Prevention Grant) and campus support during crisis

6. Personnel Implications: CACREP accreditation requires accredited programs to have adequate faculty resources. Specifically, CACREP requires evidence that the academic units maintain (1) faculty trained in counselor education, (2) a student: faculty ratio of 10:1 due to the intensive clinical and graduate-level program requirements. SEHS currently has full-time faculty dedicated to the department and do not plan to request new faculty lines due to the new program status.

7. University Reviews/Approvals: The proposal for a MA in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree was reviewed and approved by the Department of Counseling, SEHS Committee on Instruction, SEHS Interim Dean, Oakland University Graduate Council, Oakland University Senate, and the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, and the Interim President.

8. Recommendation:

WHEREAS, the Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree is consistent with objectives contained in Oakland University's Institutional Priorities; and

WHEREAS, the Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree is currently meeting the demands for well-trained counselors and the degree is consistent with Oakland University's objectives for Institutional Priorities; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Board of Trustees authorizes the School of Education and Human Services change to the current Community Counseling program from a track within the Master of Arts in Counseling to a separate Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree.

1. List proposed program changes related to merging, splitting, renaming or modifying a program.

1.1. Current academic program(S):

The Department of Counseling currently offers one Master of Arts in Counseling Degree with two tracks community and school counseling. The Master of Arts in Counseling originally was approved in 1972 and updated to the current 48 credit hour format in 1987. Our national accreditation (CACREP: Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programming) organization now requires community counseling programs to add an additional 12 credit hours to the current 48 hours and to change the program titles to Clinical Mental Health Counseling. Due to financial aid policy, we must now split the program and have the Community Counseling track offered as a stand-alone Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Degree. The following proposal is the description of the additional 12 credits needed to meet the credentialing obligations. As well, we reviewed course sequencing and course titles to better reflect current practices.

1.2. Propose splitting from a single MA in Counseling with two tracks to one MA degree programs: MA in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. (brief description):

This program modification proposal has two goals: 1) meet new national accreditation standards and 2) improve current course sequencing.

Currently, the Master of Arts in Counseling program is 48 credit hours and includes two tracks: Community Counseling and School Counseling. The program is nationally accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). However, our program was accredited under 2001 CACREP standards and the revised 2009 CACREP standards have different requirements, including a clinical mental health 60 credit hour program. The proposed modification will expand our community 48 credit hour track to a 60 credit hour clinical mental health program. Additionally, 2009 CACREP standards emphasize a focus on "mental health" counseling rather than "community" counseling. Our proposal will adapt our program to meet the new emphasis, and as such, we also propose to change the name of our Community Counseling Track to a 60 credit hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program under CACREP. Our transition to the modified programs will be fully implemented in Winter 2015 with a transition period in Fall 2014. The transition plan is described in section ten.

2. Describe the reason(s) for the proposed change.

As of October 2014, the 48 credit hour community counseling track will no longer be recognized or accredited by CACREP. In order to maintain our accreditation through CACREP the Master's in Counseling program must offer the 60 credit hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program. In preparing for our modifications we reviewed the curriculum of other CACREP programs offering the Mental Health curriculum, completed an analysis of our curricula, and reviewed student and alumni surveys. The new MA program will meet CACREP Accreditation Standards and the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs which Licenses Professional Counselors in the State of Michigan.

3. Current program(s) requirements. (admission requirements, program requirements, course offerings, delivery method and advising structure).

3.1. Admission requirements

Our admission requirements are consistent with CACREP standards, which require: 1. input from regular, adjunct, and affiliate program faculty; 2. each applicant's potential success in forming effective interpersonal relationships in individual and small-group contexts; 3. each applicant's aptitude for graduate-level study, including technological competence and computer literacy; 4. each applicant's career goals and objectives and their relevance to the program; and 5. each applicant's openness to self-examination and personal and professional self-development. An attempt is made to ascertain students' potential for graduate level work, their potential success as a counselor and their appropriateness for the program given their interests and career goals as well as the more intangibles of interpersonal skills, ability to handle stress appropriately and receptivity to supervision. Selection and retention issues take into consideration regular, part-time and affiliate program faculty regarding enrollment, problematic student issues and curriculum changes. Our process is the following:

First, a paper review is completed on each file. The grade point average and transcripts are reviewed to determine the applicant's academic aptitude. The Department of Counseling requires a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 out of a 4.0 scale for admission. At least 24 semester hours in the behavioral sciences are also required for admission. Each applicant must complete a goal statement, which specifically requests the applicant to describe his or her career goals and motivation for a degree in counseling. Two letters of recommendation are also required and reviewed. If the paper review meets the standards then candidates are invited for an interview.

The interview process consists of dyad and group activities to identify the interpersonal strengths of each applicant. The interview process consists of the following activities:

1. Students must interview one another in dyads and introduce their partner to the rest of the group, 2. Students complete a self-awareness scale and share current strengths and weaknesses, 3. Students interact as a task group to complete a group decision making activity. Student inter-personal skills are rated by two faculty members after the group interview and admission decisions are made by a review of all aspects of the completed file and interview process. Each faculty member participates in aspects of admission decisions. Faculty work in dyads on tasks such as pre-screening files, review of goal statements, group interview and review of writing sample.

3.2. Program Requirements

Our purpose is to adequately prepare students to work as counselors in a pluralistic and complex society. As a department we integrate to the extent possible suggestions of the American Counseling Association (ACA). Faculty, students, and collaborative partners provide continual guidance on Curriculum and program issues.

Our specific objectives for the Master of Arts in Counseling emphasize the following:

1. use of appropriate counseling theories.
2. application of a developmental, life-span approach.
3. viewing human issues from a multicultural approach.
4. expertise in individual, group and family interventions.
5. selection of appropriate prevention interventions.
6. models of indirect and direct service to clients.
7. expertise in school/community emphasis.
8. integration of career issues into life-span orientation.
9. effective use of standardized appraisal techniques.
10. becoming informed consumers of professional research.
11. connection with relevant professional organizations.
12. adherence to the ethical, legal and professional guidelines and practice.

Students are required to gain competence in the eight core areas defined by CACREP: human growth/development, social cultural foundations, helping relationships, group work, career/lifestyle development, appraisal, research/program evaluation and professional orientation. Students choose and complete an emphasis in School or Community Counseling which is also based on CACREP guidelines. The foundation of our counseling program is based on standards provided by the American Counseling Association.

In addition, the Community CACREP (2001) standards available in Appendix A.

3.3 Course Offerings:

The community counseling track and school counseling track integrate both the core described previously with requirements distinct to the track. The community counseling track requires CNS 564 Introduction to Community, CNS 574 Conceptual Treatment Planning and Internship in a community setting. Both community and school counseling training are integrated throughout the entire program. Each student is required to complete a program plan at the end of their first semester.

3.4. Delivery Method

Courses in the MA program have traditionally been offered in lecture (L) and seminar (S) formats. Currently, we have two online electives which are Human Sexuality and Advanced Human Sexuality.

3.5 Advising Structure

Each student admitted into a graduate program in counseling is assigned a faculty advisor at the time of admission. This professor will help the student develop the plan of work and should be consulted on all other program-related matters, such as transfer credits and Petitions of Exception. Students obtain their advisor's signature within the first semester of study to receive approval for his/her program plan. Students also can access advisement during advising hours and by appointment. The program plan consists of prerequisites, core curriculum, specialized curricular experiences/electives and supervised practicum and internship requirements. Program Plans signed by the faculty advisors are required by the end of CNS 500, Introduction to Counseling.

4. Proposed change to program. (admission requirements, program requirements, course offerings, delivery method and advising structure).

4.1 Admission requirements:

Master of Arts (M.A.) in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Proposed Admission Procedures Revisions

Rationale for changes:

As counselor educators, we have an ethical and legal responsibility to serve as gatekeepers for the profession. CACREP Standards (2009) delineate three areas (academic aptitude, career goals, and ability to form interpersonal relationships) that interviewers consider when selecting potential students for master's level counseling programs. The proceeding proposed revisions underscore existing strengths and address deficiencies in our current admissions protocol.

Current Requirements for Admission into Program:

At present, prospective counseling students are required to meet the following criteria in order to be admitted into the M.A. in counseling program:

- Complete 24 credits (undergraduate or graduate) in the behavioral sciences (i.e., psychology, sociology, etc.)

- Minimum Grade Point Average of 3.0 in all undergraduate coursework
- Two official and original letters of recommendation
- Written statement of purpose
- Successful completion of a group interview

Department of Counseling Revisions to Admissions Requirements and Procedures:

1. Eliminate of the requirement that prospective students have completed 24 credits in the behavioral sciences. There are several reasons for removing this requirement. First, although the Guidelines for Behavioral Science Prerequisites provide a general guide for prospective students and advisors, there is a great deal of inconsistency in the courses that advisors count as a behavioral science credits. Second, there are many courses offered in disciplines outside of the ones included on the Guidelines that could adequately prepare prospective students to be successful in the counseling program. Third, comparable counseling programs do not have a similar condition for admission. For example. Wayne State University, Eastern Michigan University, and Western Michigan University have no requirements for a specified number of behavioral science credits. By removing this requirement, we have the potential to increase the number of prospective counseling students. Furthermore, our curriculum is comprehensive and thorough enough to provide students the necessary content and skills to be successful graduate counseling students and competent helping professionals.

2. Minimum Grade Point Average (GPA) of 3.0 in all undergraduate coursework will remain the standard for admission.

3. Prospective students will continue to be required to submit two letters of recommendation. Presently, the language included in letter guidelines reads as follows: Recommendations are important to the application procedure. The two required references must be from professionals, professors, or employers who can attest to the applicant's academic ability and effective interaction with youth and adults.

We propose the following language revisions:

Recommendations are important to the application procedures. The two required references must be from professors, employers, or supervisors who can attest to the applicant's academic potential, readiness for graduate study, and interpersonal skills. All letters of recommendation will be rated on a case-by-case basis.

4. Applicants will continue to submit a written statement of purpose. There will now be two parts to the written statement of purpose:

Part I:

All applicants must submit a written statement of purpose that explains reasons for entering the counseling program and employment goals. Applicants should describe experiences and accomplishments in working with children, youth, and/or adults. In addition, applicants must describe their strengths and areas for growth from theirs and others' perspectives.

Part II:

As a counseling graduate student, you will receive constructive feedback from instructors and supervisors. Describe a time when you were given constructive feedback and how you responded to it.

The statements of purpose will be evaluated based on a) Clarity of goals, b) Whether or not applicant's goals are congruent with our program, c) Experience and accomplishments, d) Aware of strengths and areas for growth, e) ability to receive and accept feedback, f) Writing skills.

5. Prospective students will continue to participate in a group interview. Our current interview procedures are comprised of:

- a. Faculty introductions
- b. Dyad Interview Exercise
- c. Relationship Skills Rating Scale
- d. Group Decision Making Exercise
- e. On-the-spot writing sample

The following revisions and additions of activities to the interview process are proposed:

- a. Faculty Introductions: The first part of the interview process consists of faculty members or interview leaders introducing themselves and briefly describing what will take place during the interview process.
- b. Dyad Interview Exercise: Applicants will work with a partner and interview each other asking specific interview questions. Although applicants will be provided with a list of the questions (See Form 1), they are required to listen, but not take notes. Interviewees will then share with the group the responses of their partners.
- c. Group Processing Exercise: During the interview, applicants are given one of several scenarios and asked to discuss and process their reactions to the vignettes. The goal of this exercise is for interviewers to look for unprofessional behavior and attitudes that are not consistent with the Counselor Competency and Fitness statement which adopts the ACA Code of Ethics. If an applicant fails to meet the language of the Counselor Competency and Fitness Statement the interviewers will reflect the unmet criteria in the comments box. The following sample scenarios were suggested by Kelly (2011, p. 115):
  - During a class, a fellow student makes a comment that you find offensive based on your perception of intolerant racial or ethnic undertones. How might you respond?

- Imagine you are a faculty member who has planned a mandatory meeting for students. One of the students expected to attend this meeting did not attend. When asked why she did not attend, she advises you that she simply could not fit it into her schedule. How might you respond to her answer?
- Imagine you are working with a difficult client who challenges your personal values and beliefs. However, you cannot refer this client. How would you handle this situation?

The aforementioned scenarios are just examples, other scenarios could be drafted. Interviewers are required to complete a Group Interview Rating Form for each applicant (See Appendix E). The Relationship Skills Rating Scale and on-site writing sample will be eliminated.

Summary of Changes:

In summary, the new requirements for admissions into the Master of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling program include the following:

- Minimum Grade Point Average of 3.0 in all undergraduate coursework
- Two official and original letters of recommendation
- Completion of a written statement of purpose that consists of two parts
- Successful completion of a group interview

4.2 Program requirements:

Our purpose is to adequately prepare students to work as counselors in a pluralistic and complex society. As a faculty we attempt to meet this purpose by maintaining clear goals and objectives for our programs in counseling. As a department we integrate to the extent possible, the guidelines of the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs (CACREP) and suggestions of the American Counseling Association (ACA). Faculty, students, and collaborative partners provide continual guidance on curriculum and program issues.

Our specific objectives for the Master of Arts in Counseling emphasize the following:

1. use of appropriate counseling theories.
2. application of a developmental, life-span approach.
3. viewing human issues from a multicultural approach.
4. expertise in individual, group and family interventions.
5. selection of appropriate prevention interventions.
6. models of indirect and direct service to clients.
7. expertise in school/community emphasis.
8. integration of career issues into life-span orientation.
9. effective use of standardized appraisal techniques.
10. becoming informed consumers of professional research.

11. connection with relevant professional organizations.
12. adherence to the ethical, legal and professional guidelines and practice.

Students are required to gain competence in the eight core areas defined by CACREP which include human growth/development, social cultural foundations, helping relationships, group work, career/lifestyle development, appraisal, research/program evaluation and professional orientation. The foundation of our counseling programs are based on standards provided by the American Counseling Association. In addition, the proposed splitting of programs will meet the following program requirements.

Students meeting the requirements of the Mental Health Program will gain competence and knowledge of clinical mental health counseling including substance abuse, crises, mental health management, biopsychosocial case conceptualization and treatment planning, diagnosis, treatment, referral and prevention of mental, emotional and co-existing disorders, managing suicide risk, diagnostic interviewing and mental health examinations, commonly prescribed psychopharmacological medications, assessment screenings, mental health management and integration of continuum of care with mental services (Appendix B: CACREP 2009 Standards).

4.3. Course offerings:

The 60 credit hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program integrates the core areas described above previously with requirements distinct to each program. The changes to the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program includes: Requiring CNS 500 Introduction to Counseling and Ethics (4 credits) in place of CNS 500 Introduction and Counseling (2 credits); Changing CNS 510 Multicultural Counseling (2 credits) to CNS 510 Diversity and Social Justice in Counseling (4 credits); Changing CNS 530 Developmental Counseling to CNS 530 Individual and Family Development in Counseling.; Adding CNS 578 Addictions Counseling; Adding Mental Health Counseling and creating a new integrated course Diagnosis and Case Conceptualization. The changes are described below with updated program plans in section 5.

5.1. Do any of the courses being deleted affect other degree programs?

None of the courses deleted impact other degree programs.

6. If any resources needed (personnel, FTE academic, facilities or equipment) please provide budget. If no resources required, please provide a statement in the proposal.

Under this proposal our intention is to maintain 11 tenure-track positions and 1 visiting position to provide both the curriculum and advising needs. Any additional resources will be in the form of 3 part time faculty to cover the additional courses. We expect this to be offset by consolidating courses and reducing our credit offerings at the doctoral-level.

CACREP requirements are integral to this proposal and this proposal is consistent with the new CACREP requirements for Clinical Mental Health Counseling available in Appendices A and B.

9. Impact on current students, enrollment, time-to-degree, target audience, faculty workload, etc..

We are increasing our course requirements. Currently, students often inquire about issues related to not having a 60 hour program. In particular, students moving to other states may have reciprocity issues. Therefore, we expect enrollment to remain steady. This increases time to degree from a 2 year program to a 2 year and a semester program. Currently, students will often need more than 2 years to complete the degree. Our target audience are students intending to be licensed as a Licensed Professional Counselor. Due to the increase of course offerings, we will need to increase faculty workload as it relates to part time faculty. We are currently finalizing a proposal to reduce our credit hours for the Doctoral Program in Counseling. We expect to reduce by more than 12 hours which will offset increases to the proposed program. We also expect our tenure-track faculty positions and visiting position levels to remain the same. Therefore, no additional resources are needed with the exception of part time faculty.

10. Provide explanation for how students enrolled in the program prior to effective date of the curriculum change may complete their program under old requirements-if so desired. The courses required must remain available, or suitable substitutions specifically designated.

In the State of Michigan, students are able to become licensed as a Licensed Professional Counselor with a 48 hour program. Our accreditation requirements are moving to a 60 hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program requirement. Current students in the program are able to obtain the Licensed Professional Counselor and become licensed in Michigan under a 48 hour program. Our state recently added the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program as a licensing option to transition to the current CACREP Standards. We expect our state to adopt the 60 hour Mental Health Program option the next couple of years. Already, many states require the 60 hour Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program for their state licensure.

Students in the current 48 Community Counseling Track including students admitted for Fall 2014 are likely to be impacted. To provide a transition option for these students we developed a 16 hour Mental Health Counseling Certificate Program. The program would allow current students in the Community Counseling Track to complete an additional 16 hours and be eligible for the State of Michigan's Clinical Mental Health criteria with a total of 64 credit hours. Or current students admitted under the 48 hour program may choose to stay at 48 hours and obtain the Community Counseling criteria. Both options currently lead to the Licensed Professional Counselor. The students completing the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Certificate will meet the 60 hour Mental Health requirement which several states now require for licensure. Students entering in Fall 2014 will have the option to take the Modified MA program or the previous Community Counseling Track. In the case of students entering and choosing the Community Counseling program, we will crosslist similar coursework to avoid maintaining two completely different programs simultaneously.

Below is the sample Fall 2014 offerings providing a transition option for students entering the Fall 2014 semester with the full set of offerings in the Winter 2015 for new students and Fall 2015. Please note due to the size of our program, offerings are continuous each year offering each class in the curriculum.

Graduate Assessment Plan

Academic Assessment Plan 2009
Department of Counseling
Draft

I. Oakland University Mission: Goals Relevant to the Department of Counseling Assessment Plan

The Department of Counseling derives the following goals from Oakland University's Mission Statement as essential to the core of the department's assessment initiatives. The following segments of the university's mission are relevant and vital to the department's assessment plan.

Instruction: "Each program provides a variety of courses and curricular experiences to ensure an enriched life along with superior career preparation or enhancement."

Research and Scholarship: "Oakland University assumes an obligation to advance knowledge through the research and scholarship of its faculty and students." Further Oakland University encourages the "application of research and scholarship to problems and concerns of the state's business and industry to its scientific, educational, governmental and health and human service agencies serves also to reinforce the public service role of the university."

Student Development: "The university has emphasized academic quality, concentration on providing a dynamic, student-focused learning environment with integration of liberal and professional studies by a faculty of dedicated scholar-teachers."

II. Goals Relevant to the Department of Counseling Assessment Plan

Instructional Goals

The Department of Counseling's instructional goals include:

1. Students will acquire knowledge in the areas of human development, cultural foundations, assessment methods, ethical decision making, counseling theories, and counseling interventions.
2. Students in the counseling program will be able to demonstrate counseling competencies under the supervision of qualified counseling professionals.
3. Graduates from the counseling program have the requisite knowledge and skills for providing counseling services in a pluralistic society.

Research and Scholarship Goals

It is the clear expectation that all full-time and adjunct faculty of the Department of Counseling will remain abreast of the research relevant to their instructional duties. In addition, this research will be reflected in classroom activity. The faculty present recent research results in class presentations, and students are encouraged to read research as a part of some courses. Students are to be exposed to and knowledgeable about research and program evaluation including:

1. Basic types of research methods to include qualitative and quantitative research designs.
2. Basic parametric and nonparametric statistics.
3. Principles, practices, and applications of needs assessment and program evaluation.
4. Uses of computers for data management and analysis.
5. Ethical and legal considerations in research.

Student Development Goals

The Department of Counseling is focused on student development through the organized and developed academic standards related to eight core curriculum competencies deemed necessary for the preparation of professional counselors. The eight areas are listed below.

1. Human Growth and Development
2. Social and Cultural Foundations
3. Helping Relationships
4. Group Work
5. Career and Lifestyle Development
6. Appraisal
7. Research and Program Evaluation
8. Professional Orientation.

III. Department of Counseling Student Learning Outcomes

The Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) has created standard criteria for the preparation of professional counselors and counselor educators. They have outlined eight core curriculum standards deemed necessary for counselor training. Within the eight core curriculum requirements, objectives for student learning are specified. Accordingly, the Department of Counseling has adopted these standards as goals for student learning since being accredited for both Community and School Counseling in 1994. Curricular experiences and demonstrated knowledge in each of the eight common-core areas are required of all students enrolled in the counseling program at Oakland University. The eight core curriculum standards and learning objectives are listed below.

1. HUMAN GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT - Studies that provide an understanding of the nature and needs of the individual at all development levels. Students will demonstrate knowledge in the following areas:
  - a. Theories of individual and family development and transitions across the life span.
  - b. Theories of learning and personality development.
  - c. Human behavior including and understanding of developmental crises, disability, addictive behavior, psychopathology, and environmental factors as they affect both normal and abnormal behavior.
  - d. Strategies for facilitating development over the lifespan.
  - e. Ethical considerations.

2. SOCIAL AND CULTURAL FOUNDATIONS - Studies that provide an understanding of issues and trends in a multicultural and diverse society. Students will demonstrate knowledge in the following areas:
  - a. Multicultural and pluralistic trends including characteristics and concerns for diverse groups.
  - b. Attitudes and behavior based on such factors as age, race, religious preference, physical disability, sexual orientation, ethnicity and culture, family patterns, gender, socioeconomic status, and intellectual ability.
  - c. Individual, family, and group strategies with diverse populations.
  - d. Ethical considerations.

3. HELPING RELATIONSHIPS - Studies that provide an understanding of counseling and consultation processes. Students will demonstrate knowledge in the following areas:
  - a. Counseling and consultation theories including both individual and system perspectives as well as coverage of relevant research.
  - b. Basic interviewing, assessment, and counseling skills.
  - c. Counselor or consultant characteristics and behaviors that influence the helping process including age, gender, and ethnic differences, verbal and nonverbal behaviors and personal characteristics, traits, capabilities, and life circumstances.
  - d. Client characteristics and behaviors that influence the helping processes including age, gender, and ethnic differences, verbal and nonverbal behaviors and personal characteristics, traits, capabilities, and life circumstances.
  - e. Ethical considerations.

4. GROUP WORK - Studies that provide an understanding of group development, dynamics, counseling theories, group counseling methods and skills, and other group work approaches. Students will demonstrate knowledge in the following areas:
  - a. Principles of group dynamics, including group process components, developmental stage theories, and group members' roles and behaviors.
  - b. Group leadership styles and approaches including characteristics various types of group leaders and leadership styles.

IV. Methods of Assessment

Direct Methods of Assessment – Master’s Program

Assessment of Capstone Experience:

Assessment of Capstone Experience: CNS 666: Internship in Counseling, is a field counseling experience that is supervised by a qualified counseling professional. Placement is at a site suitable to the counseling emphasis of the student. Assessment of student performance is conducted by the on-site supervisor and the course instructor. Evaluations of performance are based upon students’ final papers, on-site supervisor and course instructors’ evaluation of the knowledge, skills, and abilities of the students. The on-site supervisor and the instructor complete rubrics to determine the final grade for the Capstone Experience (See Appendix B for the Internship Supervisor Evaluation and the Instructor Evaluation).

Goal of the Internship: This capstone experience assesses instructional goals and student development through inter-rater feedback from the course instructor and site supervisor with regard to student performance. The student is expected to complete 600 hours (300 direct counseling and 300 indirect) at the site. The student is expected to complete the everyday duties of a school or community counselor.

National Counselor Exam (NCE) Results:

The purpose of the NCE is to assess knowledge, skills, and abilities viewed as important for providing effective counseling services. The NCE is designed to be general in nature. It is intended to assess cognitive knowledge which should be known by all counselors regardless of their individual professional specialties.

Each student seeking to become a Licensed Professional Counselor in the state of Michigan must successfully complete this exam. A significant number of our students during the last semester of the program or shortly after graduation take the NCE. Test data is made available to academic programs for assessment purposes. The content areas and work behaviors assessed by the NCE are in line with the department’s eight core curriculum areas. Each of the eight of the Department of Counseling’s program learning goals are assessed by the NCE and are listed below.

National Counselor Exam Content Areas

- Human Growth and Development
- Social and Cultural Foundations
- Helping Relationships
- Group Work
- Career and Lifestyle Development
- Appraisal
- Research and Program Evaluation
- Professional Orientation & Ethics

Successful completion of the NCE exam is a passing score determined by the following procedures:

1. Of the 200 items on the examination, only 160 items are scored to determine whether you meet or surpass the minimum criterion (passing) score for that form of the NCE.
2. The MAXIMUM possible score on the NCE is 160.
3. The remaining 40 items on the exam are being field tested to determine their appropriateness for future use.
4. Since the 160 items to be scored are not identified in the exam booklet, you should respond with equal effort to all items.
5. The minimum criterion (passing) score is derived from a modified Angoff procedure.
6. The NCE is not scored on a "curve," therefore the candidate pool does not determine the passing score.

We receive a report detailing the passing score of students in our counseling program taking the exam.

Goal of the National Counselor Exam: The National Counseling Exam objectively measures student achievement in all eight CACREP core areas which are in line with the Department of Counseling's program goals and student development objectives.

Indirect Methods of Assessment – Master's Program

Survey of Graduates, Employers, and Supervisors (See Appendix A): A web-based survey will be administered to students who have graduated from the counseling program within the last five (5) years, as well as employers and supervisors identified by recent graduates. Current internship and practicum supervisors will also be surveyed. The survey will use quantitative and qualitative methods. The survey will be administered every three (3) years. The Department Chair will initiate the survey to be regularly administered with the assistance of the CACREP Liaison. The quantitative data is calculated by the web-based tool and the qualitative data is summarized into themes by a supervised doctoral graduate assistant. The final data is presented in a faculty meeting and distributed to counseling graduates and current students for review. The faculty incorporate the feedback into curriculum planning and overall program development.

Goal of the Survey: The survey measures instructional goals and student development through feedback from community agencies and schools regarding our graduates.

Direct Methods of Assessment – Doctoral Program

Comprehensive Exam

The goals of the Comprehensive Examination are:

- To assess comprehensiveness of the student's knowledge
- To assess the student's written communication skills
- To assess the student's ability to integrate and apply knowledge
- To determine the students readiness to propose and complete dissertation

The Comprehensive Exam is divided into five (5) questions. The first four of those questions are answered by all applicants and are integrative in nature. The answer to each of these four questions is expected to address CACREP's diversity concerns while covering two of the following content areas identified by CACREP for doctoral study:

- Theories pertaining to the principles and practice of counseling, career development, group work, systems, and consultation;
- Theories and practices of counselor supervision;
- Instructional theory and methods relevant to counselor education;
- Pedagogy relevant to current social and cultural issues, including social change theory and advocacy action planning
- Design and implementation of qualitative research, including grounded theory, ethnographic, and phenomenological methodologies;
- Models and methods of assessment and use of data;
- Ethical and legal considerations in counselor education and supervision (e.g., the ACA Code of Ethics).

Each student also has a single specialization question. The content of this question, along with a reading list on which the question will be based, is negotiated in advance by the student and his or her Academic Advising committee. During the comprehensive examination period, the student's specialization question is offered as the fifth and final question and it is structured in a take-home format. Student's have 30 days to complete and return their response.

Each of the first four comprehensive questions is written and graded by a 2-person team. The student's Advisory Committee writes and grades the specialization question. First, the questions are individually rated pass/fail by individual members. Second, the teams meet and rate the response and develop a consensus of pass/fail. Teams report their results to the Doctoral Program Coordinator within three (3) weeks following the exam. In the case there is no team consensus a subcommittee of two appointed by the doctoral coordinator reviews the responses and reports a final decision. The students are graded on a pass/fail rubric (Appendix C: Pass/Fail rubric for Comprehensive Exams)

The doctoral coordinator reviews all the results of the doctoral comprehensive exams both individually and as a group. The coordinator reports the results at the annual faculty retreat. The results are discussed based on individual merit as well as pedagogical issues within the academic experience.

Goal of the Comprehensive Exam: This assessment evaluates instructional goals, student development, and research skills at the highest level.

Indirect Methods of Assessment – Doctoral Program

Combined with the Survey of Graduates, Employers, and Supervisor (See Appendix A) described in the Masters program we also complete exit interviews with each of our doctoral graduates.

Goal of the Survey: The survey and exit interviews assess instructional goals and student development through feedback from community agencies and schools regarding our students.

V. Procedures in the Department of Counseling for Translating Assessment Results into Program Changes

Results of the assessments will be presented at faculty meetings and distributed to stakeholders of the Department of Counseling (i.e. Dean of the School of Education and Human Services and clinical supervisors). The faculty addresses specific program changes in the Core, Community, School, and Doctoral curriculum subcommittees. These subcommittees report suggested changes to the rest of the faculty during faculty meetings and the faculty retreat. Following discussion and consensus at the faculty meeting and faculty retreat, any necessary program changes will be implemented.

Every eight years the Oakland University Counseling Program completes a self-study and site visit for CACREP. The 2009 self-study is available electronically and may be viewed by the assessment committee. The standards for CACREP are available at the following link: <http://cacrep.org/>

Graduate, Supervisor/Employer Surveys

Dear Counseling Graduate,

The University is conducting an ongoing research to evaluate the Counseling program and collecting information on demography, professional activities, professional placement, work experiences and self-assessment of professional competencies. The data will be used to assess needs for future graduate counseling classes and assist the university in fulfilling state and accrediting agency standards, goals and expectations.

Your input will be very valuable to us. Please let us know what was useful in your educational preparation and what was more relevant in your training. Please complete the "Graduate Survey" and return it to us in the self-addressed-stamped-envelope (SASE) provided. Your responses will remain anonymous and confidential. Codes, not names, will be used in filing and on computer files. Responses will not be made available to third parties, and the reviewers will not be able to track responses back to you.

Please give the "Supervisor/Employer Survey" and cover letter to your supervisor and/or employer and invite them to participate in the survey and return it to us in another self-addressed-stamped-envelope. The Supervisor/Employer's responses will also be held in the strictest confidence. Please complete the survey and return it to us by April 1, 2007. Or you can submit the online survey (or ask your supervisor/employer) by going to <http://www.survey.com/oaklandcounseling>.

If you would like a summary of the overall results of this study, we plan to post them on our website at www.oakland.edu. Thank you very much for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Lisa D. Hawley, Ph.D.

Graduate Council

Dear supervisor and/or employer of an Oakland University Counseling Graduate:

You are in an important position to evaluate the training of an OU Counseling graduate. Your input can be immensely helpful to us in ongoing program improvement.

Please complete the attached "Supervisor/Employer Survey" and return it to us in the return-addressed envelope provided. The information you provide will be pooled with that from other respondents, and only aggregate (i.e., grouped) data will be reported. Your response will remain anonymous and confidential. Your participation is, of course, voluntary. Please complete the survey and return it to us (using the envelope provided) by April 15, 2007. Or you can submit the online survey by going to <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=889093426257>

We realize that this task will take some of your valuable time, but we trust that you understand the importance and value of it for our professional needs. Thank you very much for your assistance.

Sincerely,

APPENDIX C: Comprehensive Exam Rubric

The examination is divided into 4 questions. The four questions are answered by all applicants and are integrative in nature. The answer to each of these four questions is expected to address CACREP's diversity expectations, defined as follows:

...the role of racial, ethnic, and cultural heritage, nationality, socioeconomic status, family structure, age, gender, sexual orientation, religious and spiritual beliefs, occupation, physical, and mental status, local, regional, national, international perspective, and equity issues in counselor education programs while covering two of the following content areas identified by CACREP for doctoral study: theories pertaining to the principles and practice of counseling, career development, group work, systems, and consultation;

- theories and practices of counselor supervision;
- instructional theory and methods relevant to counselor education;
- pedagogy relevant to current social and cultural issues, including social change theory and advocacy action planning;
- design and implementation of quantitative research and methodology, including univariate, multivariate, and single-subject design;
- design and implementation of qualitative research, including grounded theory, ethnographic, and phenomenological methodologies;
- models and methods of assessment and use of data;
- ethical and legal considerations in counselor education and supervision (e.g., the ACA Code of Ethics).

The actual combination of these 8 content areas into 4 questions may be different each time examinations are scheduled. Students have 2 and 1/2 hours for each comprehensive question, two questions per day for the first two days.

The exam is graded pass/fail. Pass consists of a comprehensive response integrating knowledge of the CACREP core areas for doctoral study. Fail consists of a lack of a solid knowledge of the CACREP core areas for doctoral study and an inadequate written response.
