Disposable Gloves – Nitrile

Nitrile has excellent storage stability making them a good choice for pre-planning activities both in the office and at home. The original Ansell, Sol-Vex nitrile glove is still in excellent condition after 30+ years! Nitrile gloves are chemical resistant so can be used in a wide range of applications from administrative to industrial/maintenance. Finally, nitrile is safe for users, it does not present a sensitivity or allergy problem, unlike latex. Latex gloves are NOT recommended.

Ansell 92-600 Touch N Tuff

A disposable, powder-free glove for administrative and light duty applications. These gloves also comply with Federal regulations for food contact.

Filtering Facemasks

A filtering facemask can be used to provide protection against droplet spread. Currently CDC does not recommend the use of masks as an influenza control strategy in non-healthcare settings. This type of facemask is a single-use item. If the facemask becomes soiled, or if breathing becomes difficult, replace.

Disinfectants

Disinfectants can help to eliminate environmental transmission due to contamination via droplet spread. These products are specified for use on desks, door knobs, phones and keyboards. Do NOT apply aerosols directly to electronic equipment. It is important to review product directions to note dwelt time, or the time the product must remain activated (wet) on the environmental surface in order to effectively destroy micro-organisms.

Dupont RelyOn Wipes(Ready-to-use)

Dupont RelyOn Disinfectant Tablets

Each tablet makes 16 oz of 1% solution with addition of water. The tablets have a shelf-life of 2 years. Product should remain wet for 10 minutes (dwell time) for effective disinfection.
