

The Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning presents

Promoting Teaching and Learning Workshop Series

200A Elliott Hall (Learning Studio) 12:00 – 1:30 p.m. Lunch provided.

Lilly Lightning Round: OU Faculty Presentations from the Lilly Conference

Wednesday, January 10 | Lilly Conference on Teaching & Learning Presenters

In October 2017, OU faculty and staff presented their scholarship on teaching and learning at the Lilly Teaching Conference. Learn about their work in this “lightning” quick format at 10-minute presentations on a range of topics including: Service Learning, Experiential Learning, Millennials & Motivation, Scientific Methods for Students with ASD, Group Projects.

Stereotype Threat and Student Learning

Wednesday, March 14 | Joanne Lipson Freed

- Explain the concept of “stereotype threat” and the science behind it
- Discuss why underrepresented students might underperform in learning and testing situations
- Identify teaching strategies that can create stereotype threat, and those that have been proved to redress it

LEAP: Liberal Education and America’s Promise

Tuesday, March 20 | Krista Malley

- Outline what LEAP is and how it relates to our General Education Program
- Review LEAP principles and practices
- Discuss ways in which we can embed LEAP into our OU courses and curriculum

Instructional Fair

Wednesday, April 4 | Multiple Presenters

Drop in anytime between 2:00 – 4:00 pm. Banquet Room B in the Oakland Center

- Share with faculty an effective instructional strategy, active learning technique, classroom activity or assessment that you use to promote student success
- Each OU faculty creates a display or interactive demonstration, along with a one-page handout, of an effective strategy in order to discuss and share ideas with colleagues across the disciplines.

Register at oakland.edu/cetl/faculty-development/workshops