Medical Education Week Mission Statement

Medical Education Week highlights innovative research and advancements in medical education at the Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine. Its purpose is to honor faculty members who contribute to the improvement of medical education. This diverse and multifaceted program brings prominent speakers in the medical education field together to share their expertise over the course of three compelling days.

All of the sessions for the 4th Annual William Davidson Medical Education Week will occur at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, unless otherwise noted.

Events presented at Royal Oak will be streamed to the following locations:

Oakland University campus
478 O'Dowd Hall

Beaumont Hospital, Grosse Pointe
Connelly Auditorium

Beaumont Hospital, Troy
Ground Floor Classrooms 1 and 2

Poster abstracts will be displayed at all Beaumont locations and Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine during the 4th Annual William Davidson Medical Education Week.

Poster abstracts are available at oakland.edu/medicine/meded

The mission of the Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine Center for Excellence in Medical Education (CEME) is to foster a culture of excellence among the biomedical sciences and clinical faculty members through focused faculty development activities with a shared commitment to better educate tomorrow's physicians.

This activity has been approved for meaningful participation credits.
