Grounded in teaching, service and research, Oakland University offers more than 270 degree and certificate programs to aspiring minds at its large campus in southeast Michigan. OU’s distinctive educational approach connects nearly 20,000 students and more than 100,000 alumni to the unique and diverse opportunities within the region and beyond. OU students are given what they need to build a solid academic foundation to be prepared for unlimited possibilities.

The University is organized into the College of Arts and Sciences; the schools of Business Administration, Education and Human Services, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences and Nursing; The Honors College; and the Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine.